AMERICAN FRONTIER TALES — MCB 257

By Helen A. Howard — 2 cassettes

Research historian Helen A. Howard reviews a broad spectrum of history in this book and gives new focus to older and often erroneous historic records. Some chapter titles include: "Hiawatha and the United Nations," "The Mystery of Sacagawea's Death," "The Puzzle of Baptiste Charbonneau," "Nez Perce Views of Chief Joseph," etc.

Narrated by: Ruth Ann Massey — c.1982

ANYTHING NEW IN YOUR LIFE, TEACH? — MCB 302

By Gerald D. Sullivan — 1 cassette

Montana author Jerry Sullivan's three short stories reach high to capture moments of sunlight in the lives of students, teachers, and principals. They provide a celebration of courage, warmth, and possibility when problems are met which confront us all in schools and homes everywhere.

Narrated by: Richard Smith — c.1992

ARMY LETTERS FROM AN OFFICER'S WIFE — MCB 306

By Frances M.A. Roe — 3 cassettes

The author, the city-bred wife of an infantry lieutenant, vividly describes the pleasures and limitations of camp and garrison life between 1871-1888. Adapting handily to the demands of wilderness living, she conveys a real appreciation for those special events such as parties and celebrations which made life on the outpost bearable.

Narrated by: Ruth Ann Massey — c.1981

BEASTS OF THE FOREST, BEASTS OF THE FIELD — MCB 328

By Matt Pavelich — 1 cassette

This book of seven fictional short stories by Montana author Pavelich, was published by the Montana Arts Council as its winning selection in the 1989 First Book Award Competition.

Narrated by: Curt Paulson — c.1990

BIG SKY GHOSTS MCB 337

By Debra D. Munn 1 cassette

The author interviewed over one hundred people for this collection of eerie tales. She writes about seventeen Montana towns, houses and community buildings in which one or more ghosts have taken up residence during the past 150 years.

Narrated by: Mary Zednick c.1993

BITTER ROOTS MCB 314

By John Moore 2 cassettes

A devoutly spiritual woman helps her in-laws, a rugged Montana family, come to terms with the bitter roots of generational sin which have entrapped their lives. As she hears sins never before confessed, the family begins to open up to God's healing in a way never thought possible.

Narrated by: JoAnn Mayala c.1993

BLACKFEET AND BUFFALO MCB 234

By James Willard Schultz 3 cassettes

The historic and social value in this book lies in the author's first-hand accounts of intertribal conflicts, differences between the government and the Blackfeet, and Indian religious beliefs and observances. The author married a Blackfeet woman, became a member of the tribe, and was given a Blackfeet name. The disappearance of the buffalo was as hard for him as for the Blackfeet.

Narrated by: Vic Richer c.1962

BLUE GRASS AND BIG SKY MCB 311

By Catharine McCarty 1 cassette

Catharine Calk McCarty, a member of the Montana State Legislature in the early 1900s (18th session), homesteaded in Glendive, MT. Her narrative provides an unusual insight into what was happening in the western United States and Montana during the years of the great depression up to World War II.

Narrated by: Joan Bishop c.1983

THE BLUE HEN'S CHICK: An Autobiography — MCB 317
By A.B. Guthrie, Jr. — 2 cassettes
For more than half a century A.B. Guthrie, Jr., was the true voice of the real West. This is his personal and historical narrative, originally published in 1965 when Guthrie was sixty-four and had miles to go. It recounts lively adventures and reflects on a career that brought fame for The Big Sky (1947), and led to the Pulitzer Prize for The Way West (1949).
Narrated by: Ray Venzke — c.1965

BRONC STOMPER — MCB 330
By Robert McCaig — 2 cassettes
When a group of ranchers puts pressure on Steve Antrim to sell them his land at less than value, he becomes suspicious and decides to resist. The plot thickens when he begins to fall in love with the new school teacher, Frances Lowne, who has come to Montana to escape a soured romance.
Narrated by: Richard Smith — c.1956

BROTHER VAN — MCB 251
By Robert W. Lind — 2 cassettes
A compelling, inspiring, and often exciting biography of Montana's legendary and charismatic Brother Van--William Wesley Van Orsdel. This Methodist minister and frontier circuit rider founded more than a hundred churches, half a dozen hospitals, a university, and a children's home in Montana. His forty-seven year ministry put him in touch with people from all walks of life, from gunslingers to governors.
Narrated by: Bill Porter

BROWSING IN THE MORGUE — MCB 283
By Russell Hill — 1 cassette
"Morgue" is the term cynically applied by journalists to the in-house libraries of newspapers and magazines; files of clippings where articles are buried as soon as they are printed, theoretically preserved for future reference, but essentially consigned to oblivion. Browsing in the morgue resurrects 55 Montana newspaper articles published between 1867 and 1899. These selections, with their errors in punctuation and spelling and their language of a time gone by, make good Montana reading.
Narrated by: Curt Paulson — c.1987

CHRISTMAS OUT WEST — MCB 307
By Bill Pronzini — 2 cassettes
A collection of short stories by famous western writers. Among them: a roguish cowboy sees Christmas through a young boy's eyes, in Owen Wister's "A Journey In Search of Christmas." Bret Harte brings makeshift St. Nick to a darkened mining camp in "How Santa Claus Came to Simpson's Bar." Arthur Winfield Knight captures an outlaw's Christmas spirit through the letters of Jesse James in "Standing Alone In The Darkness."
Narrated by: Richard Smith — c.1990

CLEARWATER ON THE SWAN — MCB 242
By John Holbrook and — 1 cassette
JOURNEYS INTO OPEN COUNTRY
By Ron Fischer
The Montana Arts Council published this double book volume of poems and short stories as the winning selection in the 1991 First Book Award Competition. These stories and poems contain a dazzling spectrum of experience that ranges in locale and spirit from the tough, working-class streets of Butte and Anaconda, to the Big Hole and Clark Fork rivers.
Narrated by: Joan Bishop — c.1992

COWBOY CURMUDGEON And Other Poems — MCB 185
By Wallace McRae — 1 cassette
McRae began writing poetry over twenty-five years ago in an attempt to record the values, humor, and plight of his occupation. He leaves no western subject uncovered. His topics range from hat etiquette and hollyhocks to balladlike tales and cowboy nostalgia. Sit back and enjoy listening to his word pictures.
Narrated by: Bill Rose — c.1992

CROW KILLER: The Saga of Liver-Eating Johnson — MCB 299
By Raymond W. Thorp & Robert Bunker — 2 cassettes
One morning in 1847 mountain man Jeremiah Johnson returned to his Rocky Mountain trapper's cabin to find the remains of his Indian wife and her unborn child, who had been killed by Crow Indians. The discovery made Johnson vow vengeance on the entire Crow nation.
Narrated by: Richard Smith — c.1958

CRY OF THE HUNTED MCB 231
By Gene Tierney 2 cassettes
A veteran of over thirty-five years as a Montana game warden, the author has gathered a storehouse of interesting anecdotes and stories. From these he cites various cases involving violations of fish and game laws.
Narrated by: James Persak c.1990

THE CURLEW'S CRY MCB 271
By Mildred Walker 3 cassettes
This book follows the central character, Pamela, from high school days to middle age. In this daughter of Charlie Lacey, an able ranch manager and a descendant of the pioneers, we feel a magnetic strength of nature. At the peak of proven self-sufficiency, Pamela responds to the unspoken need of a former friend to whom she lost her first love.
Narrated by: Joan Bishop c.1955

CUSTER'S FALL MCB 323
By David Miller 2 cassettes
This is the story of the famous Battle of the Little Big Horn as told by the only ones who survived to recount it--the Indians. Based on the oral testimony of seventy-two Native American eyewitnesses, the story reconstructs the events of a battle that has become legend.
Narrated by: Richard Smith c.1992

THE CUSTER WOLF MCB 293
By Roger Caras 1 cassette
A rare, white wolf, dubbed the "Custer" wolf, stalked the South Dakota and Montana ranges from 1915-1920 preying on cattle and sheep. In this story based on true fact, the author has taken all that is known about the life of wolves and created a wolf-world, giving the reader insight into the wolf's feelings, instincts, and motivations. (grades 4-9)
Narrated by: Joan Bishop c.1966

DARK WATERS MCB 209
By Russell Chatham 2 cassettes
Writer and painter Russell Chatham celebrates the senses in these contemporary articles and essays about his experiences with duck hunting and fishing. The stories are not strictly "outdoors" or sporting articles: Chatham writes about his passions--art, friends, enemies, eating, sport, and anything else that catches his fancy.
Narrated by: Richard Smith c.1991

DEATH AND THE GOOD LIFE: A Mystery MCB 282
By Richard Hugo 2 cassettes
Al "Mush-Heart" Barnes, a homicide cop with a near-fatal tendency to trust suspects, trades his Seattle beat for the more leisurely pace of small-town Montana. The good life in the town of Plains suffers a nasty disruption when a tall, wild-haired woman begins to axe trout fishermen and various other denizens of the peaceful Northwest. Barnes follows the trail of crimes back to the pacific, and twenty years into the past.
Narrated by: Ray Venzke c.1991

THE DEVIL'S BAND MCB 356
By Robert McCaig 1 cassette
On assignment from the Pinkerton Agency, Justin Lark travels to Montana for one of the most unusual and dangerous cases of his career. His client is a rich and beautiful young woman and his task is to rescue her twin sisters and her brother from an isolated community guarded by the Joshuans, the meanest collection of hardcases Lark has ever seen.
Narrated by: Ken Ellis c.1980

DIAMONDS IN THE SNOW MCB 262
By Mary Leffingwell 1 cassette
Dorothy Bridgman, the author's mother, was one of Montana's first blind orientation and mobility teachers. Here the author reminisces about her early life on the family ranch near Clyde Park, MT.

DROWNED MAN'S LODE — MCB 355
By Robert McCaig — 1 cassette
When mining engineer Mike Kendall agrees to be the superintendent for a hardrock tunnel job he not only discovers a fortune in gold underwater, but a dead body as well.
Narrated by: Winston Swift — c.1960

EASTERN MONTANA — MCB 298
By John A. Alwin — 2 cassettes
Eastern Montana is a land of sweeping vistas and seemingly open country, and perhaps no other section of the state is more deserving of the Big Sky label. The pictures and text of this book depict a region rich in energy and food production. Some think that the future of the state is to be found here.
Narrated by: Curt Paulson — c.1982

EMBER AND HIS FRIENDS IN THE FOREST — MCB 294
By John Willard — 1 cassette
Ember, the kitten who survived a forest fire, belongs to Jim and Hazel. During the wintertime he lives with his owners in their warm cabin in the deep forest. A Montana western.
Narrated by: Bob Tiller — c.1953

RESCUE JOSH MCGUIRE — MCB 277
By Ben Micaelsen — 2 cassettes
A shy but feisty thirteen-year-old is told that a young orphaned bear cub he's found must be turned over to the folks at Fish and Wildlife. When he finds out that the cub will be a subject for heinous research he runs away into the mountains and manages to escape detection for several days. He encounters a blizzard and other mishaps and adventures on his journey.
Narrated by: Colleen Mockler — c.1991

THE RIDGERUNNER — MCB 327
By Richard Ripley — 2 cassettes
Missing supplies and food in isolated camp sites in Idaho's Selway-Bitterroot wilderness confirmed the presence of a mysterious solitary. For years no one saw the "Ridgerunner" who was so woodswise and contentious that he vexed the government and a major timber company until his apprehension in the 1960s.
Narrated by: Richard Smith — c.1986

A ROADSIDE GEOLOGY OF MONTANA — MCB 270
By David Alt — 2 cassettes
This book provides new interpretations of the Rocky Mountains based on modern theories of plate tectonics. Written in plain English in a style that readers will easily understand, this book is for people who are not geologists but would like to know something about the rocks and landscapes of Montana.
Narrated by: Vic Richer — c.1986

A ROCKY MOUNTAIN CHRISTMAS — MCB 278
By John Monnett — 1 cassette
Taking from nature what they could find, early pioneers made the best Christmas they could until civilization caught up with them. In these stories the author illustrates the sometimes novel, sometimes sentimental, and sometimes austere adaptations our pioneer ancestors in the early West incorporated into their celebrations of Christmas.
Narrated by: Mary Zednick — c.1987

RUNAWAY — MCB 230
By Mary Clearman Blew — 2 cassettes
Contemporary short stories with Montana settings and themes.
Narrated by: Elizabeth Pofahl — c.1982

SOILED DOVES: Prostitution In The Early West — MCB 308
By Ann Seagraves — 1 cassette
Women like "Molly b'Dam," Mattie Silks, and "Chicago Joe" blended into the fabric of the American Frontier with an easy familiarity. Others, such as "Sorrel Mike," escaped through suicide; Lottie Johl chose marriage, and the Chinese slave girls lived a life without hope. A touching insight into the lives of some frontier prostitutes.
Narrated by: Colleen Mockler — c.1994

THE SOUND OF CHRISTMASTIME — MCB 261
By Gerald Sullivan — 1 cassette
An eighteen-year-old on probation finds warm acceptance in the home of a Jewish businessman and his wife during Christmas; a young mute boy speaks during the school Christmas play; a beloved older teacher who has to change her pre-Christmas wedding plans inspires principal, staff, and students to change an archaic school policy.
Narrated by: Bill Porter — c.1992

STARS OVER MONTANA — MCB 246
By Warren L. Hanna — 2 cassettes
George Bird Grinnell led the campaign for Glacier Park's designation as a national park. Louis Warren Hill put the power of his railway company behind efforts to establish hotels and highways for the comfort of tourists. These and other men played vital roles in the creation of Glacier Park as we know it today.
Narrated by: Ruth Ann Massey — c.1988

STONEMAN'S GAP — MCB 318
By Robert McCaig — 2 cassettes
Pinkerton Detective Agent Justin Lark is among the passengers on a stagecoach robbed by the famous Redtop gang. Having seen first-hand how the gang works, Lark sets about to learn their identities and put an end to their vicious robberies and killings.
Narrated by: Brett Byers — c.1976

THE STINSONS — MCB 305
By Frances Kerns — 3 cassettes
For generations, the Stinsons have been ruled by men. When Rinie becomes a Stinson through marriage, she finds that her awkward shyness and quiet beauty make her vulnerable to the private vendettas of the other Stinson women. Driven by a dream she throws herself into finding her own place in this family.
Narrated by: Ruth Ann Massey — c.1972

THE TALL UNCUT — MCB 296
By Pete Fromm — 1 cassette
Contemporary short stories about the American West. Montana author, Pete Fromm writes about hunting and fishing, long car trips through open landscape, and relationships between men and women who feel more than they know how to say.
Narrated by: Mike Weeks — c.1992

THIS I REMEMBER — MCB 339
By Alden Beller — 1 cassette
Retired school teacher Beller writes about his growing up in the Flathead Valley in the early to mid 1900s.
Narrated by: Lea Blunn — c. 1991

TO BE WANTED AT CHRISTMASTIME And Other Stories — MCB 253
By Gerald Sullivan — 1 cassette
Three Christmas stories set in Butte and Bozeman, Montana: "To Be Wanted At Christmastime;" "Christmas Bus;" "Black Ornament On A Black Christmas Tree."
Narrated by: Bonnie Heidel — c.1991

TODAY THEN — MCB 310
Dave Walter, Editor — 2 cassettes
Today Then presents seventy-four pieces written in the early 1890s by noted commentators on the American scene. The American Press Association originally commissioned the writings as a prelude to the opening of the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago on May l, 1893. You will enjoy comparing the predictions made by these writers with the way things actually were 100 years later.
Narrated by: Vic Richer — c.1992

TWILIGHT OF A PROUD PIONEER PEOPLE — MCB 248
By Shirley A. Spang — 2 cassettes
Spang tells what it was like for an Indian family to grow up during post-depression years prior to and during World War II on the Lame Deer Reservation, and later in Forsyth, MT.
Narrated by: Cyd Slattery — c.1990

AN UNCOMMON TASK AND OTHER STORIES — MCB 303
By Carle O'Neil — 1 cassette
Stories about common, everyday things which happen in correctional institutions: the former "juvenile delinquent" who makes good; the positive relationships between inmates and staff members that really make a difference; the tears and failures that are also part of the corrections experience.
Narrated by: Colleen Mockler — c.1989

UNDER THE CHINOOK ARCH — MCB 322
By R. W. Gustafson — 1 cassette
This Conrad veterinarian spins folksy tales about his forty-three years of caring for animals in Montana's Golden Triangle. Readers will encounter a backward enema; a Chinese doctor deal that netted seventeen half-cows; a cow uterus packed on a pickup bumper; a pregnant cow and no bulls within 20 miles, and many other stories.
Narrated by: Lea Blunn — c.1993

UNDER THE WHEAT — MCB 325
By Rick DeMarinis — 1 cassette
Seven contemporary short stories by Missoula writer DeMarinis, author of several novels.
Narrated by: JoAnn Mayala — c.1986

VOYAGES OF THE STEAMBOAT YELLOWSTONE — MCB 243
By Donald Jackson — 2 cassettes
This small but plucky side-wheeler hauled smallpox vaccine, contraband weapons and important personages up the Missouri River in the 1830s. Donald Jackson's irresistible enthusiasm and unusually lively talent as a chronicler turn ordinary ships' logs, schedules, glossaries, and other technical details into an engaging story.
Narrated by: Paul Boswell — c.1985

WARPATH MCB 275
By Stanley Vestal 2 cassettes
White Bull, nephew to Setting Bull, Chief of the Sioux, was known as the warrior who killed Custer. This biographical collaboration between the author and White Bull, reveals a man who prided himself on the exciting and glorious war deeds of his youth. But more than a biography, the book is a guide for studying the principals of Indian warfare.
Narrated by: Richard Smith c.1934

THE WATCH: Stories MCB 316
By Rick Bass 1 cassette
Exquisitely written short stories that explore love, death, friendship, youth, and maturity.
Narrated by: Vic Richer c.1989

WATERING HOLE MCB 346
By Joan Melcher 1 cassette
A first-hand tour of fifty of Montana's most colorful and historic bars, including roadhouses, sports bars, animal bars, logger bars, steak bars, hamburger bars, wilderness, and dancing bars. This book captures the warmth and affection with which Montanans treat this central social establishment.
Narrated by: Richard Smith c.1980

WESTERN BADMEN MCB 309
By Dorothy Johnson 2 cassettes
Hundreds of romantic tales have been told about Joaquin Murieta, Billy the Kid, Jesse James and others. Johnson tells us we needn't believe such legends: these bloody-handed men were just plain bad.
Narrated by: Bill Porter c.1970

WESTERN MONTANA MCB 286
By John Alwin 2 cassettes
A companion volume to Eastern Montana, this book examines the mountainous western third of Montana. Its colorful history, pristine wilderness, abundant wildlife, and environmental controversy are touched on in pictures and text.
Narrated by: Richard Smith c.1983

WHAT LAW THERE WAS — MCB 268
By Al Dempsey — 2 cassettes
Notorious outlaw Henry Plummer and his gang make up the material for this gritty novel about the lawlessness of the old West. The reader is made to feel the fear and frustration that drove the Vigilantes, living around Virginia City and Bannack, to take matters into their own hands.
Narrated by: Richard Smith — c.1991

WIDE OPEN TOWN — MCB 344
By Myron Brinig — 2 cassettes
It's 1910 and young John Donnelly, the Irish immigrant with a love of fresh air and ocean breezes, works deep in the dark mines of Silver Bow, and tries to work out his love for Zola, a prostitute and the love of his life.
Narrated by: Richard Smith — c.1931/1993

WILD JUSTICE — MCB 357
By Robert McCaig — 1 cassette
In the blistering summer of 1884, the Vigilantes need undercover men to gather evidence for a clean-up of central Montana. John Starr, a man who's property was destroyed by savage renegades and who is riding the vengeance trail, makes a good recruit. But when lovely widow Beth Lowall opens John's eyes to the emptiness of a life dedicated only to revenge, he looks forward to a time when he can hang up his guns.
Narrated by: Mike Weeks — c.1959

WILL JAMES' BOOK OF COWBOY STORIES — MCB 343
By Will James — 2 cassettes
These fifteen stories are written exactly as an unlearned person might narrate them: the syntax is imperfect, but the sentiment is right on and real. This is a genuine look at what makes up the cowboy's world.
Narrated by: Curt Paulson — c.1951

WOODEN LEG: A Warrior Who Fought Custer — MCB 213
By Thomas B. Marquis — 2 cassettes
Woodenleg was among those surviving warriors who fought against Custer at the Battle of the Little Big Horn. Thomas Marquis, an agency physician for the Northern Cheyennes, thought that by writing a biography of Woodenleg, readers would get a more human glimpse of what they considered the hostile Indians of that day. He spent many hours interviewing Woodenleg and others to get a first-hand account of Custer's last stand.
Narrated by: Paul Boswell — c.1931

THE YEARS AND THE WIND AND THE RAIN: A Biography of Dorothy M. Johnson — MCB 334
By Steve Smith — 2 cassettes
Anyone interested in knowing how the distinguished and prolific Montana author, Dorothy Johnson, conceived and wrote such stories as "The Hanging Tree," "A Man Called Horse," and "The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance," all of which were made into movies, will learn the answer in this well written biography. Despite a slow start and many disappointments, Johnson was acclaimed "the most brilliant woman Western taleteller since Mary Austin."
Narrated by: Ruth Ann Massey — c.1984

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK — MCB 288
By David Petersen — 1 cassette
A concise and simple introduction to the world's first national park which was established by a congressional act in 1872. With simple text, the book discusses some of the animals which inhabit the park, and explains such natural phenomenon as geysers and hot springs.
Narrated by: Peter Langen — c.1992
